

TALKS ANNEXATION TO THE CABINET

LORRIN A. THURSTON PLEADS
FOR HAWAII'S ADMISSION.

Is "A Child of America"—The Former Minister from the Islands Presents an Exhaustive Review of the Arguments for and Against the Ratification of the Treaty

Washington, Oct. 11.—Lorain A. Thurston, ex-minister from Hawaii, has issued a hand-book on the annexation of Hawaii of eighty-eight pages, in pamphlet form. A summary of the reasons for and against annexation are as follows:

"For two generations the attitude of the United States towards Hawaii has been more that of a brother toward a little sister than the usual formal treatment accorded other nations. The reasons are that Hawaiian Christianization, civilization, commerce, education and development are the direct product of American effort. Hawaii is, in every element and quality which enters into the composition of a modern civilized community, a child of America; Hawaii is the one 'American colony' beyond the borders of the union; Honolulu is the one foreign port in the world where the stars and stripes float over more ships than all other flags combined.

"The controversy with Japan is the preliminary skirmish in the great coming struggle between the civilizations of the east and of the west. The issue in Hawaii is whether, in that inevitable struggle, Asia or America shall have the vantage ground of the control of the naval key of the Pacific. All that is now holding Hawaii from retrograding into an Asiatic outpost is a handful of resolute and determined men. But there is a limit to their strength, and if help is to come in time it must come soon. Annexation will settle the issue and maintain American control in Hawaii and nothing else will. It will prevent the establishment of an alien and possibly hostile stronghold in a position commanding the Pacific coast and the commerce of the north Pacific, and definitely and finally secure to the United States the strategic control of the north Pacific, thereby protecting its Pacific coast and commerce from attack.

"The present net debt of the republic of Hawaii is approximately $3,900,000, and its saleable property, exclusive of the public streets and roads, upon which not less than $1,000,000 has been expended, amounts to $7,938,000, leaving a clear net profit to the United States in property acquired of approximately $4,000,000.

"The people of Hawaii will remain in Hawaii and will themselves settle locally the local problems arising out of local conditions, with no more effect upon the political life and principles of the general government than has a town election or local-option agitation in Arizona. As a territory Hawaii will have no vote in national affairs, and, with the feeling against admitting new states, statehood is not an issue or a practical question."

Epworth League Meeting.
Chicago, Oct. 11.—Fully 2,000 persons attended the annual meeting of the Epworth league last evening in Western Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. J. G. Wolfe, president of the league, introduced Rev. E. A. Schell of Berwyn, the league's secretary, who referred to the prosperous condition of the league, with its 1,500,000 members in the north and 500,000 in the south, making a total membership of 2,000,000, which is more than three times the size of any other Christian organization of young people.

City Is Prepared for a Raid.
Independence, Kas., Oct. 11.—It has been discovered that Al Jenkins and his gang of desperadoes, who held up and robbed the Rock Island train a few weeks ago in the territory in broad daylight, had planned to make a raid upon this town and rob the banks and leading business houses. The business houses are well armed and are connected with electric bells, so that, should an attack be made on any of them, the whole town could be alarmed.

Dr. Morley To Be Exonerated.
Chicago, Oct. 11.—It is learned from a reliable source that the commission appointed by the Rock Island Methodist conference which has been in session for three days to try the charges against Rev. Dr. Morley had concluded its labors and sealed its verdict, and that it had sustained the Christian character of Dr. Morley. It will make a report to that effect.

ITS RIGHTS IN DANGER.

Protest to Nicaragua Likely—Concession Is Disliked

Washington, Oct. 11.—Another diplomatic controversy between the United States and Nicaragua is impending as a result of the action of the latter government in granting a concession to an English corporation which, it is believed, conflicts with that awarded to the Maritime Canal Company of New York.

Fearing injury to the rights of the American corporation, the State Department recently cabled to Minister Baker, stationed at Managua, directing him to examine the concession granted to the English company, and in case of conflict with that of the Maritime Canal Company to enter a strong protest. The result of Mr. Baker's examination is awaited with some eagerness by the department.

Black was chairman and Julius Wagman secretary. The chairman said that an organization had been effected in the last week which would be able to carry on the work. Headquarters of all branches will be established and a call for funds to assist the work was issued. The plans for the convention to be held in this city Nov. 19 were discussed. The convention is expected to inaugurate an educational campaign among the people.

Lee in Washington.

Washington, Oct. 11.—General Fitzhugh Lee, Consul-General to Havana, came to the city at a late hour Sunday and registered at the Shoreham. It has been generally understood that General Lee was to return to Havana about the middle of October, and his return to the city at this time, presumably, is for the purpose of receiving his final instructions from the president before sailing for his post of duty.

Galveston, Oct. 11.—At a meeting of the Galveston board of health Dr. Guiteras stated that there are five cases of yellow fever here, and that three patients have recovered from the disease. WOULD AID FARMERS BY THEIR HINTS

SECRETARY WILSON TO ASK FOR ATTACHES.

Trained Men Are Necessary—Ordinary
Consuls Are Not Able to Do the Work Required—Would Collect Information of Value and Profit American Agriculture

Washington, Oct. 11.—Secretary Wilson in his report will recommend to congress the creation of a new office in connection with the diplomatic service. He believes that this government should have attaches to a number of the most important foreign legations who shall represent the agricultural department. We now have military and naval attaches at all the important legations abroad.

The secretary of agriculture wants congress to make provision for sending a number of bright young graduates of agricultural colleges abroad as attaches at some of the most important legations, whose duty shall be to study the agricultural resources and developments of the countries to which they are accredited and also to report to the agricultural department all legislation affecting agriculture either at home or the imports from this country.

In fact, Secretary Wilson thinks an attaché to the United States legation in Germany, representing the agricultural department, can be of more service to this country than a military or naval attaché. The German government has such an attaché at the German legation here in Washington. He has no other duty than to study the agricultural development of this country, send all the publications from the agricultural department to his home government, and watch legislation affecting agriculture. Through the labors of a scientific agriculturist here in Washington the German government is fully posted regarding everything pertaining to that calling in this country.

Secretary Wilson would have congress provide for a similar system in connection with a number of legations where it would be of advantage to have men report on the development and legislation touching agriculture. He does not think the consuls can do this work, for the reason that it should be done by men who have made a study of agriculture.

Want an Injunction.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 11.—Since the decision of Secretary of State Porter that the silver Republicans may go on the official ballot under that title, the opponents of silver in the state are preparing to appeal to the Supreme Court of the state for relief. The case will be taken up by the Republican leaders. They assert that the decision absolutely ignores the state law which declares that no party shall go on the official ballot under any name similar to that of an old party. The silver forces insist that the decision is the only solution of the problem, since it is a partial victory for each side.

Methodists Ordain Ministers.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Ten elders and twelve deacons were yesterday added to the Rock River conference. Bishop Merrill ordained the candidates. The day began with a love feast, which was followed by a sermon by Bishop Merrill. The afternoon was taken up with the ordination, and the Epworth League celebrated its anniversary at night. The pulpits of the neighboring churches were filled for the most part by out-of-town members of the conference.

Prince Botkin Arrives.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 11.—The fever situation here grows no better. THREE MADE CRAZY BY GOOD FORTUNE

KLONDIKERS GAIN WEALTH AND LOSE REASON.

One Miner Dies of Fear—Dread of Losing $30,000 Which He Had Accumulated Causes His Death—Returned
Prospectors Corroborate Stories of Rich Gold Finds.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 11.—Men just arrived from Dawson City report that three miners have gone crazy there over the gold excitement. L. F. Gerish, who arrived Sunday en route to his home in West Superior, Wis., says: "The sanitary condition of Dawson City is not so bad as many reports have stated. In many instances sickness and death have been brought about by hard work and excitement. Some men live on barley and that only half cooked. The excitement attendant upon the washing and accumulation of gold is so great that men devote the time to it that should be given to cooking, cleaning and rest. A man named Johnson washed out $30,000 and could not dispossess himself of the idea that he was going to be robbed. The mental strain was so great that it caused his death, for he was found one morning dead in bed and underneath his pillow lay his sack of $30,000 in gold dust."

"When we left Dawson people were begging at store doors to be allowed to enter and get supplies. It was some days before our party succeeded in obtaining enough provisions to supply us on our journey out."

Two other cases of mental derangement from similar causes are reported, but the names of the men affected are not remembered by the men who bring the news.

Gold Is Everywhere.

Port Townsend, Wash., Oct. 11.—A report has filtered to the Klondike that the Canadian government is about to impose a royalty on Yukon placers of 10 per cent on the output of the less profitable claims and 20 per cent of the yield of the richer mines. An intense feeling of opposition is abroad. It is asserted that there has been no exaggeration so far as we have gone among the placers of the Klondike. Opinion that ranks them peerless seems just.

Being $4,000,000 in Gold.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 11.—The steamer City of Seattle, which arrived Sunday from Skagway and Dyea, brought fifteen successful miners from the Klondike, who have nearly $4,000,000 in gold and drafts wrested from the frozen gravel of the north. Besides the fortunate miners the Seattle had 160 disgusted men, who could not get over the passes.

Gunboat for Alaska.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 11.—The gunboat Marietta, detailed to relieve the Concord in Alaskan waters, has been specially outfitted for her northern cruise. Deck-houses have been built over the hatches and as she is constructed of steel the Marietta has been equipped with additional heaters.

Prominent masons from all parts of the world are present, and the sessions will continue during the week.

Prince of Wales No Arbitrator.

London, Oct. 11.—The Prince of Wales has declined an invitation to mediate in the engineering strike. In the course of his letter of refusal he says he deeply deplores the "disastrous state of affairs," but feels it would not be right or proper for him to attempt in any way to interfere or to mix himself therein.

Weyler to Return at Once.

Madrid, Oct. 11.—Captain-General Blanco will sail for Cuba Oct. 15, and Captain-General Weyler will return to Spain immediately. General Castellanos assuming the direction of affairs in the island until Blanco's arrival. The Marquis de Ahumada, who was Captain-General Weyler's second in command, has resigned.

Might Have Retained Weyler.

London, Oct. 11.—The Times, commenting editorially on the Cuban situation, says: "If Senor Segasta fails to adopt a bold reform policy in Cuba likely to disarm American jingoism it might turn out to have been wiser to have left General Weyler to finish the war in his own fashion."

Murders Wife and Mistress.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 11.—Frank Early, colored, shot and killed his wife Sunday, from whom he had been separated six years, then shot and mortally wounded his mistress, Nannie Frey. He then gave himself up to the police.

Yellow Fever in Mississippi.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 11.—There are no new cases of yellow fever at Nitta Yuma. At Edwards there are nine new cases, four of which are of colored persons, and one death, that of John Y. Young.

NO SPECIAL SESSION.

Balfour Declines on a Petition to Provide for the Starving.

London, Oct. 11.—In reply to a petition signed by sixty-four members of the Irish party in the house of commons asking the government to call a special session of parliament to deal with the exceptional distress in Ireland, Arthur J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury and government leader in the house of commons, has written to John Dillon, the Irish leader in the house, as follows: "The government has observed the partial failure of the potato crop with great concern and is watching anxiously the condition of the people in the threatened districts. There is no need, however, to summon parliament earlier than is customary, because, should the apprehensions of the memorialists be unhappily realized, the executive is empowered to adopt the necessary measures without waiting for the sanction of parliament."

BIG RALLY AT THE END.

Close of Christian Endeavor Meeting at Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—In the last hour of the Illinois convention of Christian Endeavor the Rev. Francis E. Clark of Boston, president of the united society and founder of the movement, faced his young people and their allies, 6,000 strong, at the Auditorium last night. It was the crowning event of the convention, and "Father" Clark was the idol of the hour.

A consecration service, conducted by H. H. Spooner, an ex-president of the Illinois union, brought the convention to a close.

The total registration was 10,000, about 1,200 of which was of country delegates. This was below the number expected. Ninety-two delegates came from twenty-six states and Canada, thirty-two from Indiana.

Steady Rain in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 11.—A steady rain has been falling throughout the state for thirty-six hours, extending into the adjacent states. It is the first rain of consequence that has fallen in the state for six weeks. The most serious result of the long drought is in the contracted acreage of winter wheat. The acreage, under proper conditions, would have been one-third larger than normal, but as little ground has yet been turned, the winter wheat area will necessarily be much contracted. On regularly cultivated soil, grain men declare, the contracted wheat area means merely a larger corn acreage next year.

To Unite Railway Unions.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 11.—One of the most important conferences in the history of unions is to be held in this city Tuesday, at which a plan to negotiate a federation will be considered and adopted. Four international conventions have declared for closer federation of the railroad brotherhoods. The one brotherhood not included is the brotherhood of engineers. Fully 100,000 men in the United States, Canada and Mexico will be affected. The meeting will be called by F. P. Sargent, grand master of the locomotive firemen, who will be chairman.

Gov. Leedy Favors Hanging.

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 11.—In an interview Gov. Leedy advocates capital punishment for murder in the first degree. He says that when a man deliberately takes the life of another he should pay the penalty by giving up his own life. The present Kansas law provides that a person convicted of murder in the first degree shall remain in the penitentiary one year, at least, and then shall not be hanged until the governor signs the death warrant.

America Has All the Trade.

London, Oct. 11.—The resumption of gold shipments has changed the outlook for the money market. Grain shipments from the United States are now large and cotton also is en route, while there is little, if any, offset in the way of American purchases in this market. So far indeed as stock operations are concerned special remittances in cash are being made to New York in connection with the coming sale of the Union Pacific railroad.

Kansas Farmers Have Hopes.

Wichita, Kas., Oct. 11.—The entire southern and central portions of Kansas were visited by heavy rains Sunday. The largest acreage of wheat ever sown in Kansas had been put in, and until Sunday the indications were that the bulk of it would be lost. The farmers had ceased operations and almost given up hope. Now they will proceed with their sowing. The rain extended into Oklahoma.

Must Bid Above $50,000,000.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Attorney-General McKenna has issued an official statement announcing that the government has decided not to appeal the Union Pacific foreclosure suit, but to allow the road to be sold on Nov. 1 in consideration of the Union Pacific reorganization committee raising its guaranteed bid from $45,745,059 to $50,000,000. The road, he added, is to be sold to the highest bidder, but with a minimum bid guaranteed as stated.

Baltimore Wins the Third Game.

Baltimore, Oct. 11.—The Orioles took the fourth of the Temple cup games from Boston Saturday at Baltimore and have now won three in the present series. One more game will entitle them to possession of the cup. Score: Baltimores 6 5 0 0 1 0 0 *—12

OUR FLAG CARRIED IN DUBLIN STREETS

STARS AND STRIPES WAVED IN PARNELL'S HONOR.

Five Thousand Nationalists Parade the Streets of Dublin in Honor of the Sixth Anniversary of Parnell's
Death—Exercises Held at the Departed Leader's Grave.

Dublin, Oct. 11.—Sunday was the sixth anniversary of the death of Charles Stewart Parnell. Five thousand nationalists paraded the streets to the bleak Glasnevin cemetery, where they heaped high the grave of their famous and lamented leader with flowers brought from all the counties of Ireland. The demonstration was unique. Previous demonstrations have had strictly a funeral character; but in accordance with the decision of the leaders, that of Sunday was divested of all the trappings and the suits of woe, and converted into a triumphal procession, lively national airs replacing dirges.

No union jack was carried, but nearly every county delegation raised the stars and stripes next to the green flag.

LISTEN TO REPORTS.

Illinois State Christian Endeavor Convention Takes Up Work.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—The work of the Christian Endeavor convention was resumed Saturday, at 9:30 o'clock, when the report of officers and superintendents were heard, followed by the reports of the committees.

Officers for the ensuing year were as follows: For president, S. A. Wilson of Chicago, now vice president of the Illinois State union; for vice president, A. E. Turner, Lincoln, Ill.; for secretary, Miss Jessie Williams, Carthage; for treasurer, John Rinewalt of Mount Carroll.

Miss Florence Patrick of Chicago spoke on "The Tenth Legion," and was warmly received. Thomas Kane spoke on "Systematic Giving."

During the morning the "junior workers' conference" was held, led by Miss Frances le Baron.

IMPORTANT DOCUMENT.

The State Department About to Publish Consular Reports.

Washington, Oct. 11.—The bureau of foreign commerce of the state department is just now busily engaged in the preparation for publication of the volume known as "Commercial Relations of the United States," embodying annual reports from United States consuls in every country in the world upon the trade conditions in their respective districts.

The forthcoming volume is of larger scope even than its predecessors and instead of being little more than the dry compilation of figures that it formerly was the "Commercial Relations" for 1896-97 will present a mass of information of such variety as to be valuable and interesting not only to exporting merchants, but to public men, to manufacturers and to technical workers.

May End the Strike.

Anderson, Ind., Oct. 11.—Every indication is flattering for a settlement of the long three-cornered window-glass fight. The Indiana labor commissioners, Schmid and McCormack, who have been in the gas belt for the past week, received such encouragement as to warrant them in addressing the officers of the three workers' associations and the manufacturers in an official manner Saturday night, requesting a joint conference. It will probably be held in Anderson during the coming week. All parties are anxious to get together, but each is standing independent and probably in the way of promoting the ends they desire.

Murdered and Set on Fire.

Canton, Ohio, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Mollie Depriester was killed early Sunday morning, and her husband, William Depriester, is in jail to answer to the charge of murder. Maggie Greathouse lived with the family, and it is said caused the trouble. She is held as a witness. The remains of Mrs. Depriester were found in the yard, charred almost beyond recognition. The evidence shows that she was struck on the head and her remains set on fire, oil having been poured over the body and ignited.

Cuban Envoy to Washington.

Key West, Fla., Oct. 11.—Charles M. Aguirre arrived here Sunday. He left Cuba on the 4th of September. He says the situation in Cuba is very good for the insurgents; that the Spaniards are in a bad condition. He says the election has not taken place, but that the next president will be Bartolome Masso. Aguirre is on his way to New York. It is said he went to Cuba with three important propositions from Washington to the insurgents, and that he is now returning with the answer.

PASTOR IS CALLED BY THE BAPTISTS

REV. A. C. KEMPTON OF EAU CLAIRE CHOSEN.

Unanimous Vote Endorses the Action of the Pulpit Committee—Rev. W. A. Hall Tells His Hearers to Work Their Plan—News From Local Churches.

Previous to the sermon Sunday morning the pulpit committee of the Baptist church through its chairman, B. F. Dunwiddie, made a report in reference to calling a pastor to succeed Dr. Hodge, and by a unanimous vote of the church and congregation, the committee was instructed to give Rev. A. C. Kempton of Eau Claire, a call to fill that position. Members of the church hope sincerely that he may be prevailed upon to accept the call.

Rev. Dr. Platt of Milton, preached Sunday morning. His text was in Psalms 51-10; subject: "The Creation of a New Heart." He said:

David wrote this when a three-fold sin was resting upon his soul, covetousness, adultery and murder. Is it any wonder that he cried out for a clean heart, when he saw that the seat of the difficulty was in his heart?

Notice first, that a new heart puts man into right relation with his God. There was a time when he was enjoying a sweet and harmonious relation with God. He had sinned and was afraid to meet his Maker. Men are sometimes afraid to meet a minister, because they are not in harmony with what he wants to talk about. When we are right in the heart, we are glad to talk about God and things that concern the kingdom.

Second, that a clean heart puts man into right relation with truth. He is ready to receive and be benefited by truth, wherever he may find it. Are the politicians, the scientists and the students of the bible always ready to see and receive the various truths which they investigate? If their hearts are right, they will gladly receive it.

Third, a clean heart puts a man into right relation to his duty.

God would use his people to win the world to the ways of life. If your heart is right, you will be willing to do the duty that he imposes upon you.

Lastly, a clean heart puts a man into right relations to the world. We are a part of this world and we ought to fill our places. If our hearts are clean, we are just the ones to enter into the primaries of political action, and into the various affairs of this life.

The source of a clean heart is God. David did not go to men, but went to his God, and we have the same blessed privilege. Go to him my sinful friend and ask him for a new heart, and a right spirit.

ADVISED TO WORK THEIR PLAN
Court Street People Shown the Futility of Mere Theoretical Piety.

An audience that comfortably filled the house greeted the pastor at Court Street M. E. church yesterday morning and listened to a very excellent sermon, the topic being, "Work Your Plan." The sermon a week ago was on "Plan Your Work," and that of yesterday was a plea for faithfully working a plan, both being introductory to the church work of the year. The speaker conceded that planning was very important but planning was easy when compared to work. Our realizations usually fall below our aspirations, so our work usually falls below our planning. The speaker had studied the magnificent church structure of Phillips Brooks and liked to think of it, and similar buildings as the embodiment of a great thought. The beautiful stone that went into it was almost worthless in the ledge of the quarry, but hard work prepared it for transformation and from the first blow of the hammer until the finishing touches produced the completed structure some one was intelligently working to carry out the plan. The polished wood was once the sturdy tree in the forest, but work transformed it to a thing of usefulness and beauty by carrying out the thought that first evolved and made possible the magnificent temple.

The cook book is the emblem of planning but unless its formulas are worked out the hungry man would fail to be satisfied.

God revealed his plans to Moses alone in the mount. He established in this plan the temple and the service in the most minute detail and then he parted and left Moses to find his way down to the desert and to be confronted by a people engaged in idolatrous worship of the golden calf, but undaunted, Moses became a tireless worker, until finally the temple service was established.

We are full of plans but frequently weak on execution. We live in an age of greater opportunities than Moses enjoyed. Our plans should always be God's plans. Great men in the nation and in the church have always worked in harmony with the church of God.

The law of commerce recognizes supply and demand. The sections that have abundance contribute to the sections that are needy. God's great storehouse is full, and we His creatures are invited to draw on Him for every need. He plans and provides the supply and expects us to work as our necessities require. Doing always improves by doing. What we need is constant practice in doing. The church wants workers in every department, and none of us are too weak to work. The idle ship in the stocks is not a ship until with sails spread to the gale, she cuts through the waves on her mission of work. We want to get out of the stocks, this year, and turn our sails for active church work.

The sermon commanded close attention, and contained many practical suggestions.

In the evening Mr. Hall spoke to a congregation of flattering proportions on "Klondike Inflammation."

WORK BETTER THAN MARTYRDOM
Rev. R. C. Denison Speaks of the Growth in Christian Life.

At the Congregational church yesterday morning the pastor spoke on the advance of life toward a perfect goal. We are generally afraid of the process of time. The years as they go seem to take with them our vigor and usefulness. Poetry laments over the decay and ravages of time. But that is only a superficial thought. When we look deeper we discover that time does not destroy life. It only changes it. The great animals which in remote ages lived here are all dead, but there is life here still, and time improves life. The old life is richer than the young. Our civilization is better than savagery. So time is not the enemy to destroy but the artist to beautify life.

Our literature shows the improvement of the years. No greater song was ever written than Homer's. But Browning and Whittier and Tennyson improve on Homer because while he sang of war, they sang of growth, and love, and faith. A song about faith is better than a song about war.

Our moral life shows the improvement of time. We are broader minded than the savages, who only cared for their own tribes. We care for the world. Poetry and art used only to belong to a very few people. Now they belong to the millions. There was great engineering skill shown in the building of the pyramids, but they were built to serve as a grave for one man. Our great examples of engineering skill are like the Brooklyn bridge built for the use of millions. The process of the years has improved our life. And what about the future? If we are to believe what the past teaches we must feel sure that in the future there is not to be decay and degeneracy but a better life.

In the evening Mr. Denison spoke on the "Glory of Christian Living," treating of the duty of simply living the christian life of righteousness and service and showing how a christian life is more glorious than a christian death.

PARDEE FIRE LOSS IS $400

While the Family Were Away the Flames Got Their Start.

While the family were in Edgerton, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Pardee's home on the Delavan road, near Main street, was destroyed by fire. The fire was discovered at 1 a. m. Sunday. It was then beginning to drop down from above, but there seemed to be no fire on the lower floor. It is thought the fire was burning for some time before the discovery was made. None of the contents of the upper rooms were saved, but most of the furniture down stairs was carried out. The whole interior of the house was gutted and the roof was burned off. The loss was about $400. It is understood that this was more than covered by insurance. Pardee, who is a cigar maker in the employ of John W. Souleman, had not returned from Edgerton at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

SUES FOR MORTGAGED LAND

Margie Symonds Makes George H. Rumrill One of the Defendants.

George H. Rumrill is one of the defendants in the suit of Margie Symonds against George L. Swancutt et al. The trouble arises over a 120 acre farm in Green county which Swancutt had claimed to own and on which Rumrill took a $1,000 mortgage supposing that the title was perfectly good. The plaintiff a girl of thirteen now claims to be entitled to one-third of the property by inheritance and says that Swancutt bought the land unlawfully at government sale. Fether, Jeffris, Fildfield & Mount represent Mr. Rumrill.

THREE HIT BY CAR ON MAIN STREET

BUGGY SMASHED AND OCCUPANTS INJURED.

Fred Yuengst and His Sisters Rolled In the Street and Severely Shaken Up—Motorman Says a Skittish Horse Was To Blame For It All.

A buggy containing three people was smashed to pieces, Sunday afternoon, by a street car at the corner of Main and Court streets. The occupants were considerably hurt, those injured being:

MRS. CAROLINE MAYHEW, suffering from nervous shock. Face and body cut, and hip bruised.

MISS ETTA MAY YUENGST, shoulder badly bruised and strained, and face cut.

FREDERICK YUENGST, body bruised, and deep cut in back of head.

The injured live at 166 Pearl street and their recovery is only a matter of a short time. The buggy was a total wreck. The horse ran away and when captured was found to be uninjured.

That all three occupants escaped so luckily seems almost a miracle.

The accident happened Sunday afternoon at 2:25 o'clock. Just who is to blame is hard to determine. Motorman Edwin Lee who was in charge of car No. 8 was coming up Main street and Yuengst and his sisters were in a buggy going the other way. The horse shied and Yuengst turned across the track. The hind wheels of the buggy were on the track when the car struck them. Motorman Lee said he had no time to reverse the current so he set the brake. The car flattened the buggy wheels at the first impact and the three people were spilled from the seat and rolled along in the wreckage.

They were all conscious and refused flatly to ride home in the patrol wagon which was called.

Phillip Yuengst, owner of the buggy, declared last evening that if the street car company would pay for his buggy and pay the doctor bills for his son and daughter he would be satisfied. Otherwise he would bring suit. Street car employees, on the other hand, say that Motorman Lee used every possible precaution and that the company is not to blame.

OPERA WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Treat Promised to the Music Lovers of the City.

A few facts about Jacques Offenbach will be interesting to those who are to enjoy his work Wednesday evening. It is said that he did not in his whole life produce one failure, and nothing more remarkable than this could be said about him. Offenbach was born in Cologne in 1819 and from 1836 to 1837 he was a student in the Paris conservatory. He began his career as a violinist player in one of the Paris theatres. Afterwards he was appointed leader at the theatre Francaise. Then he opened a theatre of his own in the Champs Elysees which he called the Bouffes Parisiens.

This was a summer theatre. In winter he transferred his company to the Theatre de Comedie in the Passage Choiseul. He was a king in Paris. His "Orpheus aux Enfers" ran for 300 nights when first produced. For the copyright of his "Whitington and His 'Cat'" which he wrote for the Alhambra theatre, London, he received $15,000, a very large price, in 1874. His best known productions are "La Belle Helene," "a Perichole," "Genevieve de Brabant," "Les Brigades," "The Princess of Trebizonde," but his greatest and most successful work was "The Grand Duchess." This latter is the opera that will be presented by the Calhoun Company next Wednesday at the Myers Grand.

The Calhoun Company is as perfect an organization as skill, experience and money are able to make it. Mr. Calhoun has left nothing undone in order to excel his previous efforts during the past four seasons. Artists of the high order, an unparalleled chorus, beautiful scenery, calcium and electrical effects, and an orchestra selected from the best of the country are all carried by this company which is making its fifth annual tour.

JACKSON STREET PATCHED

Has Been Fixed In the Wasteful Style Followed For Years.

Jackson street which has been in very bad condition from Wall street to Ravine has been repaired after the fashion that wastes so much of Janesville's ward funds. The loose dirt has been scraped up to a smooth surface that ought to last until the fall rains begin. The first ward aldermen were anxious to spend a little more money and put a stone surface on the street that would make it unnecessary to use ward funds there for several years to come, thus saving money in the long run, but the means were lacking and they had to make temporary repairs answer the purpose.

DANGER OF A COAL FAMINE

Danger Seems To Be Great as Cold Weather Draws Near.

The danger of a soft coal famine in the state is said to be greater as cold weather approaches. Dealers are borrowing from one another in order to meet contracts, with promises of returning the coal when "their ship comes in."

A prominent dealer is authority for the statement that there is virtually no bituminous coal on hand in Milwaukee at the present time.

Official returns from all the coal yards, backed up by freight bills, show the receipts at Milwaukee for the year ending October 1, to have been 350,000 tons. The amount required to supply the trade, rated on last year's basis, is 800,000 tons. This leaves 500,000 tons to be landed during the next two months, when the season of navigation will close. Records show that Dec. 5 is the latest date on which boats have left the lower lake ports for Milwaukee. Dockmen say it will be impossible to bring the needed amount of coal before the close of navigation, even under most favorable conditions.

The Milwaukee shortage would not be so serious were it not that the Superior region is also short and cannot be relied upon to ship any more than the usual amount. Chicago is also limited in supply.

IT RAINED REAL RAIN

Surprise For Everybody After Ten Weeks Of Dry Weather

The first drops of rain last evening brought people out of doors to satisfy themselves that the unexpected had happened. The ten weeks' drought was broken, the 'all rains had begun.

All through the night it rained fitfully—all night and all day and still there were country roads where dust lay beneath the mud. So thick had the coating of dust become that the first rain made little impression.

A Blessing to the Babies of the Poor. An Enterprise That Should be Fostered.

The prospect is very encouraging that the distribution of pasteurized milk, devoid of all microbe germs, among the children of the poor at a nominal price, will become general in the large cities of the United States. While this benevolence will be a blessing to the babies, our adult population enjoy an equally great one in the benefit conferred by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters upon persons afflicted with kidney and bladder complaint. Danger from Bright's disease and diabetes is surely averted by this admirable preventive, which is also a safeguard against malaria, fever and rheumatism, and a thorough remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint and nervousness. Diseases, insignificant at the outset, enlarge their proportions and capacity for destruction through neglect. Another point of importance in using this sterling remedy is, that it should be taken with regularity and persistence.

Festivals and Parties...

Will awaken in the feminine heart longing for an evening gown. We never had such a fine lot of silks, velvets, accordion chiffon, in lovely effects; mousseline de soie puffing, a dreamy creation, lace nets and heavy embroidered all overs in cream, white and two tone; a world of trimmings; exquisite things in jeweled bands, applique novelties, rich embroidered bands in white and cream; laces, a perfectly immense line, the very latest novelties, nothing lacking. Hardly a thing that we cannot supply. There is little excuse for any woman to go away from this city for dress goods and pay bigger prices. The reason advanced by some for trading in other cities is a weak one, for we can suggest hundreds of rich combinations for dresses, so that no two suits need be the same.

If it is a matter Of Price...

That would lead you to keep the old curtains hanging, think better of it. The trifling cost of a pair of curtains, as we sell them, should not come between you and new draperies. A look through our great stock and a knowledge of the prices we are making will convert you to our point of view. Besides all the newest things in lace curtains, we show beautiful new heavy curtains in Tapestry, Brocatelles, Velours, Bagdads, Chenille, Roman, &c. It's a treat to see such an assortment of rich curtains and a relief to know that such a small outlay will secure them.

TO CURE NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA

To Gain Flesh, to Sleep Well, to Know What Appetite and Good Digestion Means, Make a Test of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Interesting Experience of an Indianapolis Gentleman.

No trouble is more common or more misunderstood than nervous dyspepsia. People have to think that their nerves are to blame and are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicine and spring remedies; the real seat of the mischief is lost sight of; the stomach is the organ to be looked after.

Nervous dyspepsia often do not have any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the usual symptoms of stomach weakness. Nervous dyspepsia shows itself not in the stomach so much as in nearly every other organ: in some cases the heart palpitates and is irregular; in others, the kidneys are affected; in others the bowels are constipated, with headaches; still others are troubled with loss of flesh and appetite, with accumulation of gas, sour risings and heartburn.

Mr. A. W. Sharper of No. 61 Prospect St., Indianapolis, Ind., writes as follows: "A motive of pure gratitude prompts me to write these few lines regarding the new and valuable medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I have been a sufferer from nervous dyspepsia for the last four years; have used various patent medicines and other remedies without any favorable results. They sometimes gave temporary relief until the effects of the medicine wore off. I attributed this to my sedentary habits, being a bookkeeper with little physical exercise, but I am glad to state that the tablets have overcome all these obstacles, for I have gained in flesh, sleep better and am better in every way. The above is written not for notoriety, but is based on actual fact.

Respectfully yours,
A. W. Sharper.

Business Men Figured on Getting the Richardson—Necross Shoe Factory

The talk of removing the Richardson—Necross shoe factory from this city to Menominee, Mich., is not only a matter of regret to this city but to La Crosse. La Crosse business men had figured on getting the factory. The following appears in the La Crosse Press of Wednesday:

"This is the factory, be it known, that La Crosse had the first chance to get, and it was lost simply through the apathy of those to whom the city looks for action in such matters. It is the factory which a month ago, the Daily Press said would be brought here if our citizens would take up the $10,000 stock owned by Mr. Necross, who wished to 'sell out.' The other proprietor, Mr. Richardson, is well known in La Crosse, has business interests here and wants to make this his home. He put his proposition in the hands of the board of trade in January last, made several visits to the city during the summer in its interests and personally called upon a number of our capitalists; but could get no satisfaction and finally gave La Crosse the 'go by' in favor of Menominee.

"The factory employs a large number of operatives, twelve of whom draw salaries of $1,200 each per annum. It has paid its stockholders, Mr. Richardson said, as high as forty per cent, and he didn't ask a cent of bonus to bring the plant here.

"As before stated La Crosse people should read an interesting and valuable moral in these facts.

FREE RURAL DELIVERY LIKED

Farmers Take to the New Departure in Postal Service.

Rock county farmers may soon be receiving their mail by the free delivery process. The inspectors who were sent out to watch the workings of the experimental trials made under last winter's appropriation for the purpose, have made their report to the postoffice department, and though the full report has not been made public, it is said to be most favorable to the plan. The most encouraging feature of the report is the satisfaction noted among farmers with the experiment and their increased use of the mail service. The estimated cost of the extension of the service to all parts of the country is $60,000,000; about 200,000 special cars would be added to the government pay rolls earning on an average of $300 per year.

SHOEMAKER LOVES HIS DOGS

They Cost Him $500 in Lawyers' Bills, But He Loves Them.

Not for much gold, would Charles Shoemaker part with the two dogs that have made him so much trouble. They were alleged to have killed two of the Wixom sheep, and their cost to their owner has been out of all proportion to the sum claimed. First and last the sheep killing case cost the defendant about $500.

The costs to the plaintiff will be at least $800, for those who are in a position to know, say that Wixom's lawyers' bills have been heavier than those incurred by the defendant.

"I was willing to settle the case any time," remarked Mr. Shoemaker, "but not so with Mr. Wixom. It cost me $500, but as to those two dogs, you can just state that never did I think more of two pets."

An Elephant's Monument

On the village green of Somers, a little town in Westchester county, New York, stands a curious memorial column, which, after some years of gradually increasing dilapidation is about to be restored and repaired, to the satisfaction of all the citizens of the place, but especially, one would think, to that of the children. For the monument preserves the memory of "Old Bet," probably the first elephant exhibited in this country, and is surmounted by her image.

Bet was brought over nearly a hundred years ago by a French showman, who exhibited her in New York city, where crowds flocked, wondering, to see her. Hachaliah Bailey, a wealthy Somers farmer, was among them; and becoming interested in the animal, succeeded in purchasing a half-interest in it, gave up his farm work, and traveled over Canada and the United States, exhibiting his marvellous acquisition.

He proved successful as a showman, purchased other animals, bought out lesser shows, and was soon the manager of a large flourishing menagerie; but in 1821, while he was exhibiting in a little town in Maine, a great misfortune fell upon him: Bet broke loose during the show. People were not as well used to elephants then as they are now, and did not understand that they are commonly gentle and friendly beasts. There was wild and immediate panic, accompanied by the anger born of fear. Threats to shoot the managers were shouted about by excited men. Somebody got a gun, and though the managers were not shot, poor Old Bet was.

After his beloved elephant's death, Hachaliah Bailey lost heart and gave up the show business, returning to his native place, where the next year he had plans prepared for a monument to Bet, which was in due time erected.

The Washing that's Easy

may be ruinous, perhaps. Plenty of things will save work in washing—if you don't mind more or less harm to the clothes. But if you do mind it, and want to be sure that you're not running any risk—then get Pearline. Pearline has been proved, over and over again, to be absolutely harmless. It saves more drudgery, in washing clothes or cleaning house, than any other thing that's safe to use. You can't afford to use anything that's doubtful.

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. 532 JAMES PYLE, New York.

ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth Century. Last year it sales reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience in fancy laundrying. It makes ironing easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a soft and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even as a baby powder.

HOW DEAFNESS IS CURED

The Thermo-Ozone Battery A New Discovery for the Cure Of Diseases.

For the First Time Deafness is Cured by Sending Medicine Into the Middle and Inner Ear.

Aurists in this and other countries have exhausted their skill in treating the drum of the ear and eustachian tube. No plan, no method, has ever before been adopted capable of carrying the treatment into the mucous membrane that covers the bones of the middle ear and other organs of hearing.

OUR CONFIDENCE

is so thoroughly authenticated by cures that for a limited time, we will give free trial treatments, at our office, for catarrhal deafness; ringing, roaring, or buzzing hissing noises, in the ears positively cured—over 175 treatments given in September without a failure. We treat all disease for which stomach medicine is given. But we GIVE no medicine by the month.

CANCER CURED

HARD FOR GEN. BLANCO.

General Ramon Blanco faces a problem in Cuba that will call for all his diplomatic and military skill. For one thing his backing across the water will be none of the best. The resources of the Spanish government are almost exhausted. It has on hand two colonial wars in distant regions, and both demand immediate re-enforcements of troops, with a monthly expenditure of millions. A premier, of so-called liberal politics, has just organized a new cabinet, but it does not represent the dominant party in the Cortes. The queen regent is an Austrian, and the heir to the throne a frail boy of 11. There is a Carlist party ready to engage in a revolution in behalf of another dynasty. One of the other four parties favors a republic. The peasantry is discontented because of heavy taxes and conscription of youth into wars from which few return. In aristocratic circles an immense number of incomes have been curtailed or lost by the colonial revolts. No matter in what direction a Spanish statesman turns he faces a sea of troubles, and a sky dark with portents.

One illustration may be given, relating to the idea that some form of autonomy will be offered Cuba. An impediment presents itself here in readjusting the Cuban debt, now estimated to have reached, on the Spanish basis of circulation, the enormous sum of $443,500,000. The per capita of this debt is $271, while that of France, whose national debt is the largest in the world, is $162 for each inhabitant. Strange as it may seem, the debt of Cuba is entirely the creation of the last thirty-five years. The island owed nothing in 1864. Then Spain saddled it with $3,000,000 for military operations in another part of the world. This ready device to raise money had increased the Cuban debt by 1368 to $7,630,000. The ten years' revolt made it $124,000,000 by 1896, and $168,000,000 in 1891, though up to that time over $115,000,000 was paid for interest and redemption. Not less than $275,000,000 additional will be the result of the present insurrection.

The demonstrations in behalf of Weyler in Havana are due to the presence there of thousands of men whose incomes are based on a continuance of the old order of things, and who are interested in plucking the island anew as soon as it can be quieted. An official report to the Cortes at Madrid in 1890 stated that official defalcations, chiefly in the custom department amounted to $22,811,516. Since 1878 the custom house embezzlements in Cuba are estimated at $100,000,000. This leak was in addition to the $26,000,000 raised annually in Cuba by taxation just before the present outbreak. If such colossal theft can go in a Spanish colony it is not likely to be stopped in a Spanish suzerainty. Selling down the Cuban debt one-half for the scheme of autonomy would still leave a remainder of $220,000,000 on which the exhausted and ravaged island would be asked to pay interest. The task is plainly beyond its strength. With independence, Cuba could recuperate, but modified home rule, under a heavy weight of old burdens and a mountain of debt, is no solution at all.

The treasury receipts under the Dingley law are steadily increasing. The receipts of its second month were greater than those of the second month under the Wilson law, despite the fact that the Dingley law found the country filled with foreign goods, while the Wilson law found many million dollars' worth of goods waiting to enter and contribute to the earnings.

VICIOUS DOG COSTS $2,000

Verdict For Damages in a Peculiar Case in Judge Bennett's Court.

Judge John R. Bennett has decided an interesting case in the Jefferson county courts. After a trial that attracted much attention, Mrs. Wilhelmine Rabenhorst secured a verdict for $2,000 damages from Bruno Schatz. The parties reside in the town of Ixonia. Nearly a year ago, while passing Mr. Schatz's place in a wagon,

Mrs. Rabenhorst was attacked by a dog, who also frightened the horse so that it became unmanageable. The strain resulting from the dog's attack, it is alleged, proved injurious to the health of Mrs. Rabenhorst, who had been for several years afflicted with incomplete hernia. This was opened and Mrs. Rabenhorst also suffered a rupture in one of her lungs, serious hemorrhages following. All winter her condition was precarious. Suit was brought to recover personal damages, it being alleged that the dog was a vicious one and belonged to Schatz, and that its attack was the cause of Mrs. Rabenhorst's serious condition.

JANESVILLE WON 18 TO 0

Foot Ball Players Have Their Own Way in Evansville.

Janesville High school foot ball experts beat the Evansville eleven 18 to 0 Saturday afternoon. Two twenty five minute halves were played. Two goals were made by Janesville in the first half and one in the last half. Fred Sutherland made two of the touch downs and Philip Casford the other. Len Mathews kicked all three goals, one being very difficult. At the beginning of the second half Fred Sutherland was knocked out. He was struck by Patterson of the home team and was carried off the field for dead. After half an hour work by two doctors he recovered consciousness, but a few months later collapsed again and was unconscious for twenty minutes.

The Evansville team will play here Thanksgiving day. They were very sore over their defeat and disputed about Janesville's share of the receipts.

THIEVES IN JEWELRY STORE

They Get Away With a Dozen Gold and Silver Watches.

Thieves raided the leading jewelry store in Oregon during the night and got away with considerable plunder. A message to the Janesville police this morning stated that the stolen goods included twelve gold and silver watches and several pins besides a supply of gold plated watch chains.

No clues were left and there is small chance of the guilty party being brought to justice.

A. C. Kent's Factory in Danger From Youthful Smokers Sunday Noon.

Small boys smoking cigarettes set fire to the high board fence that surrounds the A. C. Kent corn planter works on North Main street yesterday at 12:20 o'clock and an alarm was turned in. When the department arrived their services were not needed for the boys had thrown away their "cotton nails" and had turned fire fighters, extinguishing the blaze after considerable hard work. The damage was nominal.

Veterans' Stories.

Old Soldiers Tell About Munyon's Great Victories.

Mr. D. H. Clark, member of the Union Veteran Legion, No. 1, and residing at Glenwood, Twenty-third Ward, Pittsburgh, says: "I suffered for twenty years from weakness of the heart, during some of the spells that I had it amounted to almost heart failure. These spells were accompanied by pains extending down the left side and arm. My case was so severe that the Government is paying me a pension on account of it. I have tried everything in an effort to secure relief, but finally gave up the idea of being helped. Recently I tried Munyon's Heart Cure and it gave me almost instant relief. I carry a bottle of it in my pocket all the time, to be used in case of an emergency. I have also been troubled with severe distress in my stomach, accompanied by pains and drawing up of the intestines. At times I felt that I would die. I purchased a bottle of Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure and I am happy to say that the first dose cured me."

A. G. Austin, No. 7 Harper's Court, South Bend, Ind., a veteran of the war, who contracted rheumatism while in the army, and is also suffering from the effects of sunstroke, says: "I have been using the Munyon Rheumatism Cure since last Monday. I have derived more benefit and greater relief from the medicine than any that I have ever used; indeed, one feature is very remarkable; my little finger, which has been perfectly stiff, as though it had no joint in it, and always in my way, which I have not been able to bend for many years, has become supple and pliant, and I can now close it into the palm of the hand in a natural way. I am delighted with Munyon's medicine."

Munyon has a separate cure for each disease. At all druggists, mostly 25 cents a vial.

WHY FAVORITE STOVES SAVE COAL

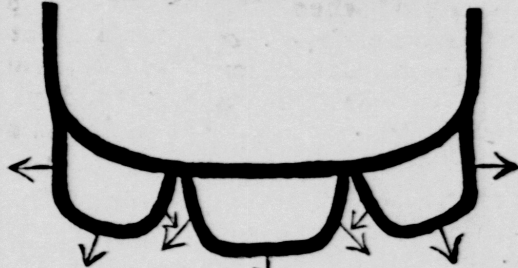

THE arrangement of radiating surfaces is unique. The hot air is utilized in the house--is not forced up the chimney until it has done its work. If you will study the flue construction as shown below you will readily see why it is that the FAVORITE Base Burner will throw out more heat with the same coal than any other Base Burner.

THE OLD WAY.

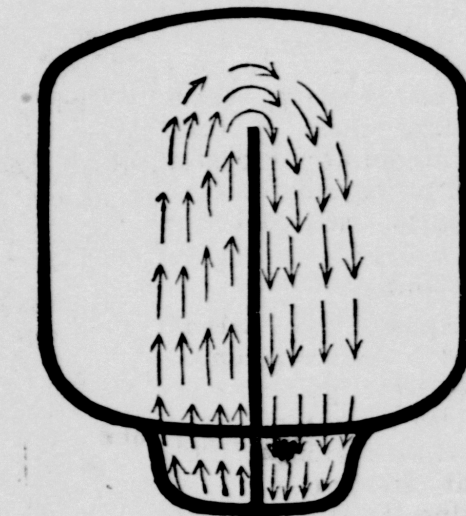

Descending Flue, Two Sides, Direct Radiation. Ascending Flue, Two Sides, Direct Radiation. In above Flue Construction there are Four Surfaces Radiating Heat.

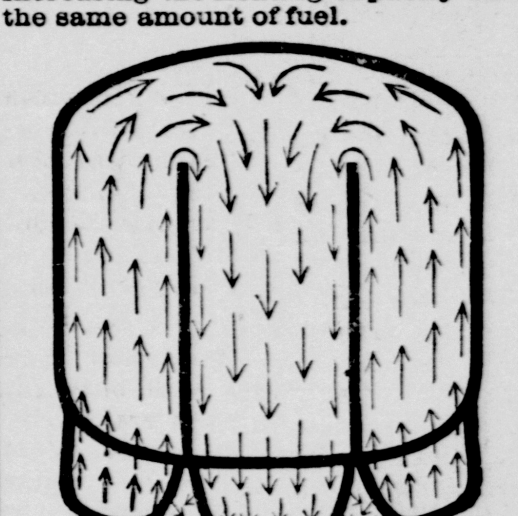

THE NEW WAY.

Descending Flue, Three Sides, Direct Radiation. Ascending Flue, Three Sides, Direct Radiation. In above Flue Construction there are NINE Surfaces Radiating Heat, increasing the Heating Capacity with the same amount of fuel.

Above cut illustrates the arrangement of Bottom Flues in nearly all base burners, showing the Heat is not Equally Distributed.

The above Bottom Flue Construction causes the Heat to go to the Outer Surfaces, Largely increasing the Heating Capacity and Economizing in Fuel.

The "Favorite" Base Burner has More Heating Capacity and is the Most Economical Stove ever made. Why? Because it has about 1/2 more Radiating Surface as compared with same sizes of other base burners, and is Mounted and Fitted Perfectly.

WRECKED CARS ROLL OFF THE VIADUCT

FORTY FOOT DROP TAKEN BY FREIGHT.

Heavy Double-Header Train on the C. & N. W. Parts at the Three Mile Crossing and the Sections Crash Together on the Main Street Span.

On the North Bluff street viaduct forty feet about the street there was a train wreck Sunday night. High in the air, it had many unusual features. Box cars and flat cars went rolling down the steep cinder embankment. A load of shingles was scattered over the Ferris ice house. Lumber was piled about everywhere, and three flat cars loaded with telegraph poles jumped end over end off the viaduct into the street below.

Two tramps were said to have gone with them and only one was seen afterward, but a careful search of the wreckage showed that he must have escaped.

The train was a heavy double header freight from Green Bay on the C. & N. W. Conductor Joseph Smith, of this city was in charge, Charles Ward of this city being rear brakeman and Richard Tregoning of this city head brakeman. The front engine was No. 359 in charge of Engineer Anthony Haselbauer, of Sheboygan, and Fireman Herman Knowles, of Janesville. The second engine was No. 396, Engineer Harry Webb, Janesville; Fireman George Slightam, Janesville.

Broke at Three Mile Crossing

The train stopped at the three mile crossing and probably broke in two when starting. There is a down grade all the way from the crossing to the city but the rear section did not gain much headway at first and the twenty cars with the engine were soon a quarter of a mile ahead. Approaching the city the engines shut down. As the front section slackened its speed the second section began to catch up. It came past the Hanson factory fifteen miles an hour bystanders declared. A moment later there was the crash and snap and grind of a collision.

The front section had stopped at the north end of the river bridge. That left the last car on the Bluff street viaduct. This car the rear section made into kindling with one sweep. It was driven through a car of shingles and a thirty-two foot car of lumber, and sent lumber flying in every direction.

From Viaduct to Street.

From the viaduct to Bluff street is a drop of forty feet. This drop was taken by 3 flat cars loaded with telegraph poles. They went over with a crash that sounded like tearing down a house. Telegraph poles were scattered like jackstraws.

The cars that came behind the three flats stayed on the bank and made a bulwark against which lumber, iron ore, shingles and cabbages were piled.

The wrecking crew was on the spot inside of fifteen minutes. So were 600 Janesville people. A telegraph pole had broken A. C. Kent's fire alarm line and called out the department. The firemen went back as soon as they saw they were not needed but the wrecking crew began taking inventory. They found ten cars scattered around in odd lumps and tangles. The location made it hard for the wrecking crew to work as the ground sloped sharply away on each side.

Night Trains Blocked

It was not until this morning that the track was cleared. The evening train from Milwaukee on the C. M. & St. P. had just come in when the wreck occurred but a special C. M. & St. P. freight in charge of Conductor Durbin was flagged at St. Mary's avenue. It was impossible to get a train through to meet the 11:20 Milwaukee train at Milton Junction so Conductor Durbin was sent back with an engine and a caboose.

Trainmen are inclined to blame the wreck on the "double-header" system. They say the big trains cannot be controlled by two brakemen. They are so heavy, moreover, that they snap car links very frequently.

MISS LOUDON'S DRESS AFIRE

She Shows Great Coolness in Putting Out The Flames.

Miss Jessie F. Loudon bears few marks today to show how near she came to being burned to death Saturday afternoon. Miss Loudon, who is about nineteen years old, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Loudon of Mineral Point avenue, was alone in the house Saturday afternoon and lighted a match to start a fire. A spark flew and in an instant her flannellette wrapper was ablaze. She ran to the kitchen for water but found none. Pumping a pail of water outside she raised it over her head and deluged herself. The fire was out in an instant and none to soon. Miss Loudon's wrapper was already burned to tatters and her white skirt was partly destroyed. The only burns she received, however, were about her arms.

ABUNDANCE OF WORK FOR CIRCUIT COURT

TWO COUPLES SEVERED BY LEGAL DECREE.

Judge Bennett Holds a Short But Busy Session—Disposes of Several Interesting Matters, and Adjourns Until November 3—List of the Cases Called Before Him.

The first session of the circuit court for several weeks was held today. The session lasted throughout the morning, and court was then adjourned until November 3.

With tears streaming down her cheeks, Mrs. Maggie O'Neil, a bright appearing woman of some thirty summers, asked for a divorce from her husband, Charles F. O'Neil. The O'Neils live near Edgerton. Since their marriage on Sept. 20, 1892, Mrs. O'Neil alleges that her husband has pounded and kicked her until she was black and blue, and that he has repeatedly slapped her and pulled her around the house. They have two children, of whom the mother will have the custody. The decree of divorce was granted. Winars & Russell appeared for the plaintiff.

Coras D. Hammond was granted a divorce from her husband Harry G. Hammond. There was no appearance on the part of the defendant, the witnesses sworn being Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. Seefeld. Both the plaintiff and defendant have lived of late near the School for the Blind.

In the case of Mary N. Burnham vs. J. W. Norton, the court ordered that the items of costs objected to by defendant be disallowed and that the judgment be reduced by the amounts so allowed.

The court today modified the alimony and the attorney fees in the divorce case of Lenore Babcock vs. Louise A. Babcock. The payments now provide for $20 attorney fees and alimony as follows: $10 on or before Oct. 15, $16 on or before Nov. 1 and $5 per month after Nov. 1 until the further order of the court.

In the guardian and custody case of Edward King Smith the court ordered that the sole custody of the infant be awarded to the petitioner Nellie K. Smith of this city, and that the respondent Thomas H. Smith pay to the petitioner $20 per month toward the boy's support. The respondent was given the right to visit his son at reasonable times in the day time.

Judgment of foreclosure was ordered in the case of George W. Skelly et al vs. P. B. Bohan et al with costs to be taxed.

Sheriff Acheson's report of sale was ratified in the case of H. P. Kirk, trustee vs. K. Sweningson et al.

Three cows that are supposed to be in the possession of James Osborn were ordered surrendered by J. Russ VanNamee to Lesliner L. VanNamee.

POLICE BOARD SITS FOR FIRST TIME

FIREMAN AND POLICE ON THE GRIDIRON.

Physical Examination Made Them Nervous and the Examination as to Mental Qualification is Awaited With Considerable Anxiety--Three New Applicants.

All the members of the police and fire department have submitted to physical examination and their other troubles under the new law began this afternoon. According to the 1897 statute all officers and firemen must reach the mark set by the board of commissioners or be dropped from the service. Vacancies are filled by applicants who submit themselves to the same examination.

The board consisting of T. S. Nolan, V. P. Richardson, J. P. Baker and W. S. Jeffris met at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the council chamber. The names laid before them for positions on the city pay roll were as follows:

FIRE DEPARTMENT.
John C. Spencer, George H. Osgood, Henry J. Cullen, Patrick Gallagher, H. C. Klein, William Dohney, R. D. Champion, M. P. Birmingham, James P. Gillespie, E. Barriage, Arthur A. Ott, W. A. Scott, J. C. McGinley, Thomas S. Abbott, Charles I. Young.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.
John W. Hogan, W. H. Appleby, John Brown, F. W. Bencke, J. L. Bear.

The examination was not begun this afternoon. The details were arranged and the board adjourned until tomorrow at 9 o'clock when work will begin in earnest. Those on the outside have been worrying the fire department boys by painting gloomy pictures of the severity of the ordeal. As a rule the civil service medicine is not relished. Inasmuch as it has brought out but one new applicant—C. I. Young—for a place on the fire department, and only J. L. Bear and F. W. Bencke for places on the police department, it would not seem to be working any radical change in the departments.

MY PAROQUET.

I had a parrot once, an ugly bird. With the most wicked eye I ever saw. Who, though it comprehended all it heard, would only say, "Oh, pshaw!"

I did my best to teach it goodly lore. I talked to it of medicine and law. It looked as if it knew it all before And simply said, "Oh, pshaw!"

I sat me down upon a dry goods box To stuff sound doctrine down its empty craw. It would have none of matters orthodox. But gawmed and said, "Oh, pshaw!"

I talked to it of politics, finance. I hoped to teach the bird to say "Hurrah!" For my pet candidates when he'd a chance. He winked and chirped, "Oh, pshaw!"

I am for prohibition, war, and woe. But that bird stole hard cider through a straw. And tipped and teetered off at my reproof And thickly said, "Oh, pshaw!"

Enraged, I hurled a bootjack, missed my aim And plugged a passing stranger in the jaw. He wheeled to see from whence the missile came. The demon laughed, "Oh, pshaw!"

I gave the creature to an old maid aunt And shook with parting grief its skinny claw. "He'll serve to cheer," she said, "my lonely hearth. For I'd not marry the best man on earth!" "Oh, pshaw!" sneered Poll. "Oh, pshaw!" —Emma Herriek Weed in New York Sun.

A CONQUERING HERO.

It was such a pretty scene. The trees had the abundance of verdant foliage that belongs to happy June. The grass seemed more than usually rich and green and the wild flowers more abundant than ever before—there was a rural bridge over a deep, rushing stream that fed a mill dam some distance beyond, and roses clambered over the broken rails of the bridge and twined their wild tendrils about an old tree near by, against which was a rustic seat. On the rustic seat was another rose—a very sweet and fresh and lovely rose in white muslin, with a Marie Antoinette fichu across her breast and knotted at the waist, and a wide leghorn hat on her head that shaded her eyes so cleverly that no beholder could guess that tears were rising there from time to time and dropping on the white mull kerchief. And this had happened so often that the rose might very well be said to be washed in dew.

Her name was Kate, and she was very angry with herself because the tears would fall despite all the indignat things she was saying to herself in her effort to stop their flow, till at last she started to her feet in a dreadful pet and began to walk up and down, crushing the wild flowers under her feet. But that could not continue, for she was a very sweet little woman and could not even hurt a flower without regretting it, and presently she bent her graceful figure and pulled the wild anemones and the few late violets and, having reached the rustic seat, she added a rose or two and sat down.

"It's a perfectly lovely morning," she murmured and pinned the flowers among the folds of the mull kerchief. "I wonder where she has taken the child, because"

She stopped and looked anxiously about till she saw in the distance the maid and the little boy rambling among the trees and apparently absorbed in gathering wild flowers and chasing butterflies, and the music of the child's laughter was borne to her on the soft, perfumed summer breeze. It was a heavenly sound—a sound to gladden any mother's heart, but Kate Selden sighed and drew from her belt a closely crumpled piece of paper, which she had thrust there in fierce impatience, and as she looked at it the tears, which had not retreated very far, again rose to her eyes.

"Oh, I'm just a dreadful fool," she thought. "A silly, silly little simpleton. And I'm glad he is late, for I wouldn't have him know for anything in this world that I cared enough to cry." And smoothing out the crumpled paper, she began to read the written words once more, though she already knew them by heart:

"If you will see me on Wednesday, we can talk the matter over. I have spoken with my lawyer, and he has consulted with yours, and a separation can be arranged without any public scandal—at least, I hope so. I would call at the house, but I know your mother hates me worse than ever now, and it would only cause a scene. So if you will come to the old rustic seat close by the bridge—you know where we used to meet in the old, happy days—ah, Kate, if you would only let me tell you everything, you would find that I am not so very much to blame. But I won't speak of that, because, of course, I know you wish to leave me, and I will make no defense. Yes, you shall keep the boy, though I believe the law would give him to me if I chose to fight for my right—no, in that I yield to you entirely. I believe a child belongs to his mother first and before all others. Therefore I give him to you without asking what the law might say about it, but I do ask that you will let me see him as often as I may wish, for I love him, dear—yes, though you may not believe it, Kate, I love him next to his mother, who is still the dearest on earth to me. There, I didn't mean to say that, but it is written, and let it stay so. I will not offend you again, but be there on Wednesday, any time before noon. I won't be later than 11, and we can arrange all the business details—the lawyers will do the rest."

And by this time the tears were brimming over, but she wiped them softly away, and instead of crushing the paper, as before, she folded it very smoothly and slipped it inside her corsage, where she could feel it rise and fall beneath the hurried beating of her heart.

"I'm glad he's late," she repeated. "I'm very glad he's late." And then she looked at her watch and found it was not quite half past 10. "Oh, he isn't late, after all. I must have been very early. I will go and find Annette and the child." And as she rose there was the crackling of a twig under a hasty footstep, and Kate Selden stood face to face with her husband. He was very pale, and his lips looked pallid and drawn with the effort to keep from trembling. She had flushed deeply when their eyes met, but now the color ebbed away from her girlish face, and she said confusedly:

"I am so glad—I mean, not to keep you waiting. You see I am here first."

"You are very good," he said, "but you are always good. You got my letter?"

"Oh, yes, or I wouldn't have known you were coming here." She moved backward a step and was very glad to drop into the old rustic seat. "It is very generous of you, Sidney, to agree to everything and particularly about baby."

"It is all I can do now—to try to please you," he answered weakly, and the perspiration was like dew on his brow. He took off his hat and stammered something about its being "awfully hot."

"Yes, perhaps you have walked fast. It is very warm, and you look tired. Won't you sit down?" She moved a little farther away to make room for him, and he dropped into the place beside her.

"We used to say there was just room enough for two," he added, with a smile, and she turned her head away, perhaps to pluck a rose, for she snapped one off short and then threw it away.

"Am I to see baby today?" he asked after a few minutes of awkward silence. "I haven't seen him, you know, since."

"Oh, yes," she answered hurriedly and looking about. "There they are, he and Annette, yonder in the woods. They are coming this way. Oh, Sidney," she cried suddenly turning toward him, "how could you? I can never, never forgive you!"

"I could never dare to ask you."

They were almost the very words of Pauline and Claud. She remembered in a moment that it had been the first play Sidney had taken her to see after they had married and how often they had laughed at that pair of lovers, each dying to forgive and be forgiven and neither daring to say the right word. She used to think she could never be so foolish as that, and now—it was getting very awkward, for this was a far more serious matter, and she knew that she could never, never forgive. What woman could?

And then she heard the laughter and shouts of little Sidney, who had just caught sight of his father and was now running wildly to welcome him. It was a fortunate interruption to a scene that was nearing a painful climax, and she was very glad to take a step or two toward the laughing boy, who was already flying across the bridge, followed by his nurse; then there was a crash, a shriek. The side of the bridge was gaping outward. The maid stood wringing her hands. The golden curls, that had floated a moment above the rushing water, were gone.

It was so sudden, so inexplicable, that the frantic mother could not realize at first what had happened. When she did, the air resounded with her agonized cries, and it was the nursegirl who was the first to see that Selden had already reached his child just in time.

"Courage, ma'am, courage!" the girl whispered, while she supported her mistress. "See—he is safe! His father has him. Look, look! The darling has his arms about the master's neck, and he's hugging and kissing of him just as if nothing had happened at all!"

The girl assisted her mistress back to the little rustic seat, and when the father and child had reached the young mother little Sidney was already laughing with delight, and as he put one dripping arm about her neck he drew her close till her face touched her husband's face.

"Kate," whispered Selden, "Kate, may I beg forgiveness now?"

"Oh, Sidney, I have been so proud and heartless! I was jealous and vain—and—and—so selfish and unfair! I wouldn't listen to you, and all the time I knew you never cared for that woman! Can you forgive me too?"

"Just give me a chance; that's all." And then two pairs of arms met and clasped each other close about the conquering hero, who seemed to find himself quite suddenly an object of secondary importance.

It then occurred to Annette that Master Sidney would have a dreadful cold unless his dripping garments were changed immediately, so she carried him off in pursuit of dry clothing.—Popular Monthly.

A Clever Swindle.

A clever swindle, whereby an out-of-town jewelry firm lost a gold watch valued at $300, was revealed by a member of the firm to some of his friends in this city the other day. A well-dressed man called at the store, and, after much deliberating, chose a watch and gave his check for $300 in payment for it. "I want you to have the watch regulated," he said to the clerk, "so I can get it tomorrow afternoon. In the meantime you can ascertain whether the check is good." The next afternoon he called and was informed that the check had been returned from the bank on which it was drawn with "No funds" stamped on it. He looked surprised and asked to see it. "Why, what a mistake I made," he said when he saw the check. "Of course it was no good. I carry a number of loose checks in my pocket to oblige my friends and I used the wrong one. Here, I will draw one on a bank I have a deposit in and will wait here while some one goes to the bank." This was satisfactory and the man sat down to wait. After several minutes he jumped up and said: "Oh, what's the use of waiting here all this time? I'll just pay cash for the watch. Get my check back." In the meantime the check had been taken to the office of the firm and indorsed to be cashed. The messenger was called back and the check returned to the man, who thereupon left with the watch. A short time afterward the check was returned to the firm for payment. The bank had cashed it on the strength of the firm's indorsement.—New York Times.

Odd Definitions.

A recent exhibition of the relics of Dr. Samuel Johnson, in London, calls forth a reminiscence of some of the remarkable definitions he made in his famous dictionary. Among them not the least curious was the one given for "network," which was defined as "anything reticulated or decussated at equal distances, with interstices between the intersections."

Other amusing definitions are, "Cough—a convulsion of the lungs, vellicated by some sharp serosity." "Man—not a woman, not a boy, not a beast." "Pension—an allowance made to any one without an equivalent. In England it is generally understood to mean, pay to a state hireling for treason to his country."

This last definition Dr. Johnson must have often wished he had not written, since he became a pensioner during the later years of his life, and had some difficulty in reconciling the acceptance of the money with his bitter and unjust description.

A Malleous Trick.

In some parts of India monkeys are regarded with superstitious reverence. They become very numerous, therefore, and as they are never interfered with spend much of their time on the roofs of the houses. This circumstance gives a great opportunity to the mean man who has an old grudge to pay off. He has only to sprinkle a little rice on the top of his enemy's house just as the rainy season is setting in. The monkeys at once assemble there, eat all the grain they can find on the roof and pull off the tile in the hope of finding more. Before the damage can be repaired the tropical rains completely ruin house, furniture and stores.—Exchange.

Two Touches.

"Behold!" exclaimed the good fairy. "I touch thee with my wand and transform thee from beggar to prince." Subsequently, however, his beloved touched him without any wand and made him a beggar again.—Detroit Journal.

"I like to trade at your store, Mr. Sanborn. I can always find anything I want," said a lady to us a few days since. Another link to our popularity is great assortment. We lay great stress on variety. You'll find, as this lady did, that we carry the most complete line of groceries in the city. A constant study with us to find good goods to sell at low prices.

People are Becoming Enlightened.

By the Leader's location in Janesville. The sales show it. The crowds of purchasers each day is evidence that the public is realizing the difference in the purchasing power of a dollar to what the same coin bought before the Leader's opening in the city. It is really wonderful what a dollar will buy. You can't really tell the full extent of its power until you visit the Leader. Merchandise of all kinds never sold so cheap as now in the city. No store ever handled the high class of goods at the same price the Leader does; a veritable hurricane to high prices in every line. The sales show the business. Sixty-five stoves and ranges sold the past week. Remarkable, you think, but the prices and makes did it. Sunshine and Acorn Stoves. Thirty-two chamber sets sold the past week: prices did it. Twenty-nine complete sets of decorated dishes sold the past week; prices did it. Eleven trunks sold the past week; half prices did it.
